AN AUTUMN SUGGESTION.

Now, as heavy fogs arise and seorching winds commence to blow; now, as the hu-man body, exhausted like inanimate nature y the heats of summer, begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the inclement wintermakes its trying ouset: NOW is the time for a preparatory course of the Lest acalimating iedicine in existance,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BUTTERS. Fever and Ague is rampont in all parts of the country. Quinine, the physicians admit, will not quell the phase of the discase which at present pervades the entire West. It is well that it is so, for the remedy (se-called) is deadlier than the malady. But if quiuine is inefficient in intermittent fevers, is irresistible. It would be safe to make a contract, under heavy penaltics, that any given "Feaver and Ague District" should be exempted from the disorder for any particular time, provided every inhabitant would take the ETTERS according to discontract. HOSTETTER'S BITTERS tions, during the term of the contract. There has never been an instance in which this sterling juvigorant and anti-febrile medcine has failed to ward off the complaint, when taken duly as a protection against malaria. Hundreds of physicians have abandoned all the officinal specifics and now prescribe this harmless vegetable tonic, and nothing else, as a preventive and core for all the forms of chills and fever. Vigor is the thing most needful in those cases, as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affections,

The Rev. Jacob Sechler, well known and much respected among the German population of this country, writes 50 | as follows :-

Hanover, Pa., Feb. 16, 1859. Messrs, S. W. Fowle & Son, Boston. Pear Sirs:—Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eightyears ago, one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline, and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then precured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of it there was a great mprovement in her health. I have, in my ndividual case, made frequent use of your valuable medicine, and have been benefitted by it. I would, however, caution the public against imposition, because there is a good ical of spurious Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry affoat throughout the country.
